Review and approve minutes from previous meeting (9-10-24)

Motion to approve the Search and Rescue Subcommittee minutes from the September 10, 2024 meeting as distributed via email (Pandis). Second (Hansen). Passed unanimous.

40th Helicopter Squadron, Malmstrom AFB

Emerson P. Woerner, Maj, USAF

- Provided an update to the SAR subcommittee members about air resources available:
 - Captain Levi Streeter (pilot). Don McWilliams (flight engineer).
 - They have about 3 hours of flight time and have contracts with most major airports
 - Fly with 2 pilots and typically flight engineers. Fly and train with NVG
 - Capabilities:
 - Infrared sensor
 - MH139 is more capable, has full autopilot and can hold a hover (plan to be fully operational in the next calendar year)
 - Requesting support:
 - Squadron is able to launch and get air born on own authority. To assist, have to go through the air force support (review brochure). Gather information, go through all legalities, get a mission number, and then turn it to the squadron to determine if they will launch.
 - Usually a couple hours from call to launch. Have a standby crew pretty much 24/7.
 - Always start with AFRRC after exhausting local resources first.
 - Questions:
 - Do you follow radio frequencies? Yes, have all radio frequencies and dial in the specified color.
 - Are you using Caltopo to track teams and coordinate searches? No. Will look into it if that is what most teams are using. We do have a function to track path and can share that information with SAR Teams.
 - How do you coordinate in the air? Lat/long. Tend to use lat/long because that is what teams seem to use.
 - AFRCC has set questions as to why the resource is necessary and to ensure all other local resources have been checked. It has helped to know the specific capability the 40th is capable of and requesting those specific capabilities, which are likely not available locally or elsewhere. AFRCC is going to try to weed out extraneous requests. Also call the duty desk as well as the AFRCC to make sure they are available and give them a heads up that you will start working through the AFRCC which helps cut some time out of the process.
 - How do you fit into the command structure? A resource. Understand there will be an on-scene commander and will do what the commander asks.

Old Business (Issues previously discussed which require follow-up)

- Online Submission – DES is working on corrections to the survey123 online submission form to ensure emails are sent to executive committee

New Business (Emerging issues which require attention from the SAR Subcommittee)

- 2025 Legislature is requesting information about SAR teams in the state. Please provide Chair Boxmeyer and Nanette the following information by JANUARY 10, 2025:
 - Number of volunteers within each SAR unit?
 - Annual number of volunteer hours per SAR unit?
 - Number of missions
 - Provide information that is available
 - It might be a good idea to start tracking volunteer hours per team each year

SAR Financial Update

- Funds Balance (see final page)
- Additional authority in SFY25 due to carry forward balance of $36,183.00
- HB2 SAR appropriation for the 2027 biennium
DES will present on January 27, 28, 29, 2025 in front of the Section A Budget Subcommittee and will have a good idea what the subcommittee is willing to fund.
Did request an additional $68K each year of the biennium, which will bring the total to about $200k per year.

Training

- 2025 Trainings -- Share upcoming training opportunities
 - Gallatin County will host lost person behavior for summer 2025
 - Stillwater will host Swiftwater and Jetboat Operator in April. Open to all at no cost.
- As trainings are scheduled let Chair Boxmeyer know. He will send an email and put the training opportunities on the web page.

- Updated Lists Provided via Email
 - Review and send updates to Chair Boxmeyer

Open Comment/Public Comment

Luke LaLiberty: Still seems like a lot of the budget is going toward private helicopters. Curious if there are other options available to reduce or limit these requests. These requests pretty much eat up what is available for training and equipment. Are there other options to limit the use?

Matt Boxmeyer: We always reach out to other less expensive options and often times do not have luck. Two Bear is not always available and they cannot be the sole resource for the entire state. The guard is often unavailable. Gallatin County is in a tough spot because of the time and remote nature of the missions. If Guard can start flying before final AFCCR approval, that would reduce time when there is a medical or urgent issue. There are a lot of factors in each decision. Sheriff Linder's helicopter option might be available for the eastern part of the state. But again, each mission is fact specific and each decision/deployment of resources is based on those facts.

Mike LaBeaty: Agree that Two Bear is not always available which is not fault to them. Most often medical helicopters can fly and look, but they can't land or extract so often it still defaults to a private helicopter service. Try to use free services, but often due to circumstance and time, private helicopters are the only/best option.

Brian Heino: If there is a critical incident that is far away and/or Flathead is experiencing an inversion, Two Bear will ask you to use closer resources. Two bear is always down for the first two weeks in October and it was longer this year due to some equipment needs. All decisions are based on a risk analysis for the people and equipment. For critical medical issues, waiting for Two Bear is not acceptable and will increase risk. Start conversations with helicopter pilots to see if perhaps there is a way to reduce costs.
